

Ingrid Goes West

INT. NIGHT- Into the camera of her cellphone – Ingrid goes “live” on social media.

Hey guys, it's me, Ingrid.

I've never done this before but I didn't have anyone else to talk to – so I figured why not.

I just wanted to tell you guys that basically everything that I posted in the last couple months is a total lie.

I haven't been living some like, glamorous life in LA.

I'm just a loser. I'm pathetic.

And I know there's something wrong with me, but I don't know how to fix it. And I don't know how to change. And I just don't think I can change.

So maybe I'm just, maybe this is just who I am.

And maybe I'm just tired of trying to make people like me.

And I'm tired of pretending like I'm someone I'm not and I'm tired of being alone and I'm just,
I'm just tired of being me- so.

I just feel like, if you don't have anyone to share anything with, what's the point of living. Yeah, so I guess I'm just making this video so you guys can see the real me, at least once.

So here I am.
