

Kiss the Girls
(Kate is suppose to be hypnotized)

Alex:
What do you hear? Dogs?

Kate:
No.

Alex:
Any kind of animals? Is it a farm?

Kate:
I don't know.

Alex:
- Do you hear the river? - No.

Kate:
I hear him...whispering.

Alex:
What does he say?

Kate:
I can feel...his mouth on my ear, his breath. He tells me that he loves me.

Alex:
Tell me about his face. Tell me about his eyes, his mouth.

Kate:
He has no face. A mask. He always wears a mask.

Alex:
- What kind of mask?

Kate:
- I can't...

Alex:
- What does it look like?

Kate:
- It changes. I can't show him that I hate him.

Alex:
But you escape. What do you see when you escape?

Kate:
I don't know. I'm just running...and my legs are heavy from the drugs. And then I'm lost.
I'm running through hallways...and there are all these rooms, and I don't know where to turn. He's behind me.

Alex:
He's not behind you, Kate. You get away.
How? How do you get out?

Kate:
Light. Light. The light and the sun.

Alex:

- Do you see a barn?

Kate:

- No.

Alex:

- A house?

Kate:

- No.

Alex:

- Cabin?

Kate:

- No. There's nothing. Just the light. It hurts my eyes. And...And then the trees...the trees again. And the rocks are digging into my feet. And I hear him shouting behind me.

And I try to run faster. That's all I'm thinking... just run faster! I...I left those girls behind. I wasn't thinking. I just told myself to run, to run and run.

Alex:

It's all right. It's OK. It's all right.

Kate:

I left those girls.

Alex:

It's all right. It's all behind you.
