

MASTERS

Arousal states for clients one and six were instantaneous. Four took ten minutes. He was slowest. Seven achieved no arousal at all. The last client, how long did he stay in the plateau state?

BETTY

For fucking ever.

MASTERS

I have eleven minutes.

BETTY

Well, you're the expert.

MASTERS

The napkin? It actually goes in your lap.

BETTY

For a man standing in a closet watching people hump all night . . .

MASTERS

It's work.

BETTY

Oh, really?

MASTERS

Which reminds me, you might consider keeping a journal. You could time a lot of this yourself, even if it's kind of in your head.

BETTY

What is the matter with you? Seriously.

MASTERS

I can't be there every night.

BETTY

Oh, we were just getting so close.

MASTERS

Climax. I have your climax lasted approximately nine seconds.

BETTY

I was faking.

MASTERS

You didn't have an orgasm?

BETTY

You're serious now?

MASTERS

Yes, I'm serious. You pretended to have an orgasm? Is that a common practice amongst prostitutes?

BETTY

It's a common practice amongst anyone with a twat. Women fake orgasms, almost all of them. Although I haven't checked my clipboard lately.

MASTERS

Why? Why would a woman lie about something like that?

BETTY

God Almighty. This is . . . (burps) OK. I'm gonna be honest with you but only because I like you and you seem real dedicated about your project and your penguin suit and with your charts and the timer, but seriously, if you want to learn about sex, then you're gonna have to get yourself a female partner.
