

Marty

Hey

Janet

Where'd you get it?
You steal it?
From the Crime scene?

Marty

Janet, I swear I don't know anything—

Janet

You're such a liar.

Marty

Think about it—

Janet

I have.

Marty

If this tape really has on it what you say it does,
last thing I'd do is give it to you.
It gives you motive.

Janet

You had it to give it to me.

Marty

Why?

Janet

You couldn't introduce it in court,
the Jury would despise you for dishonoring the Bishop's memory,
But, if you get me to show it,
Motive or no motive I'm the one who looks bad, and you gain sympathy for your poor little abused boy.

Marty

You think so?

Janet

I hate you.

Marty

Don't use it.

Janet

I have no intention of using it.
(to bartend)
Usual Stu

Stu

You got it.

Janet

You're up to even more than that aren't you?

Marty

I'm not up to anything.

Janet

You're opening a door,
You think I'm gonna walk through it?
There's going to be a tiger on the other end, and I don't particularly –

Marty

You know who'd be really upset if you used it—

Janet

I just told you I'm not—

Marty

Shaughnessy

Janet

Fuck him.

Marty

Fuck him?

Janet

Fuck you.
Thanks a lot.

Marty

All right, if this is not your motive, what is?

Janet

I have motive.

Marty

Yeah? What is it?

Janet

I'm Really going to tell you.

Mary

Well, you'd better tell the jury pretty soon.
Times running out.

Janet

You Think you've got me.
You think because you know me as well as you do, you know how I think.
Well I know how you think.

Marty

You know what I'm thinking?

Janet

What happened to your face?

Marty

I, um.
I bumped it on the medicine cabinet.

Janet

No, Marty that was a girl on her way out.

Marty

Maybe we should come back here later.

Janet

Later? They close in 10 minutes.

Marty

No after.
After the trial.
When you've got nothing to lose.

Janet

How can your timing be so good in a courtroom and so bad in real life?
I'll think about it later.
I hate you too much right now.
