

CHARLOTTE

Hi.

LEE

Morning. Coffee?

CHARLOTTE

Yes. Thanks.

LEE

Did we, uh...

CHARLOTTE

No. Molly usually isn't good for that sort of thing. We did other stuff though.

LEE

Other stuff?

CHARLOTTE

Yeah, we went out. After the ceremony.

LEE

We went out?

CHARLOTTE

Yeah. To a few bars, and a club. You, um... danced. A lot.

LEE

How old are you?

CHARLOTTE

How old are you?

LEE

Seventy...One.

CHARLOTTE

Why do you wanna know how old I am?

LEE

Because this seems a little odd.

CHARLOTTE

Does it?

LEE

Yeah. I mean you look like you could be my daughter's age for Christ's sake.

CHARLOTTE

Jesus. Don't make it weird.

LEE

It is a little weird.

CHARLOTTE

How old's your daughter?

LEE

Thirty four.

CHARLOTTE

Cool, well... I'm older than her.

LEE

Still. Look, I'm just a little...confused right now. I don't understand why you're here.

CHARLOTTE

You asked me out, right?

LEE

Yeah.

CHARLOTTE

So, what the fuck, man. I'm not busting your balls because you're older than my dad. But whatever. If you've got a problem with it, I'll go.

LEE

No, I don't want you to go.

CHARLOTTE

Okay so, what do you want?

LEE

I don't know.

CHARLOTTE

Don't think so hard about it, man. You're thinking about it instead of just...Can I have some milk in my coffee?

LEE

I'm sorry.

CHARLOTTE

I'm here because I wanna be here. Trust me, I got plenty of places I could be. But I'm here with you. But if you don't want me here, I can go. After I drink my coffee. 'Cause this coffee's pretty good.

LEE

That's Folgers. I don't want you to go.
